Charles-Town, May 30, 1770.

BENJAMIN MATHEWES, Merchant, in Tradd-Street (next Door to Messrs. Mansell, Corbett, & Comp. and nearly opposite to Samuel Prioleau, Esq; Controller of the Country Duties) a Subscriber to the Resolutions entered into by the Inhabitants of this Province the 22d of July, 1769, having, in January last, imported sundry Goods from London (contained in Fifty Packages) inhibited by the said Resolutions; having also voluntarily agreed to store the same, till a general Importation should take Place, by the following Instrument, viz.

"I, the Subscriber, having received sundry Goods from London, marked M, in a Diamond, No. 1 to 50; and as it is contrary to the true Intent and Meaning of the Resolutions, entered into by the Inhabitants of this Province, that I should dispose of them before the Acts complained of are repealed, do voluntarily agree to store the same, at my Loss and Risque; and I do hereby promise, to see them forth-coming to the General Committee, when a general Importation takes Place in this Province. January Tenth-third, 1770."

(SIGNED) BENJAMIN MATHEWES.

And, upon being required to produce the same to the Committee of Inspection on the 2d Instant, having acknowledged, that many of the said Goods, so agreed to be stored as aforesaid, had been opened and disposed of, alledging that the same had been done by his Mother, Ann Mathewes (who is also a Subscriber to the Resolutions) during his Absence in the Country: And they, the said Ann & Benjamin Mathewes having been ineffectually, though repeatedly, applied to, to make proper Satisfaction to the Public, for such shameful Breach of their sacred Contracts: And the said Ann continuing to open and dispose of the said Goods, in manifest Violation of the said Resolution: The GENERAL COMMITTEE, after all possible Lenity and Forbearance shewn, find themselves reduced to the Necessity of advertising the said

ANN & BENJAMIN MATHEWES, as VIOLATORS OF THE RESOLUTIONS;

as Persons audaciously counteracting the united Sentiments of the whole Body of the People, not only in this, but all the Northern Provinces; and preferring their own little private Advantage to the general Good of AMERICA.

And as, according to the last Article of the afore-mentioned Resolutions (subscribed by the said Violators) it was agreed, that every such Violator should be treated with the utmost Contempt: So the General Committee presume, that the above Publication of Names, will be alone sufficient to excite the same; and to caution all Persons whatever, who have subscribed the said Resolutions, against having any commercial Dealings whatever with the said ANN & BENJAMIN MATHEWES, until public Notice shall be given of their Compliance with the reasonable Terms that have been proposed to them—till when their Actions must declare them to be obstinate and inveterate Enemies to their Country, and unworthy of the least Confidence or Esteem.

B O S T O N, MAY 22.

Extract of a Letter from Portsmouth, New-Hampshire.

Rejoice to hear that the spirit of LIBERTY with you retains its fervor, notwithstanding the numerous efforts of the Sons of Corruption to oppose your glorious designs. May you go on and prosper! May you be the instruments, in the hands of Providence, to save this spreading empire from slavery and misery; while the tools of tyranny meet that punishment which is due to their aggravated guilt. You serve that, "had our efforts been unanimous and spirited, we should long e'er now have obtained relief." This union, however difficult to obtain, must be endeavoured by unwearying and unceasing application.

"The Merchants here have received a letter from the merchants in Boston on the affair of non-importation, but have not yet come to a final resolution. Happy should we be, had we a generous HANCOCK here to lead the way! Such a blessing is reserved for Boston. The inhabitants of this province are in general, as true Friends to Liberty as those in the other colonies, had they as powerful leaders."

The beginning of this week his Majesty's ship Mermaid, Capt. Smith, arrived here from Halifax. Several officers of the regiments there came passengers in the Mermaid.

WILLIAMSBURG, (Virginia) MAY 31.

Last Tuesday arrived in town, from North-Carolina, on his tour through the colonies, Sir William Draper, Knight of the Bath, accompanied by his nephew, Captain Collins, of the navy, with his Lady, and Mr. Beresford, Jun.

B O S T O N, JUNE 4.

One day last week the Hon. G. M. Esq; Comptroller of the Customs at New-Haven, and the Commissioners Inspector-General-Extraordinary came to town (by land or water) from South-Carolina, and the Summer-Isles; where 'tis said he has been upwards of two years on an important service for their High Mightinesses, over and above that of settling the turtle fishery in those parts upon a delicate and advantageous footing, and which service, I am sure, he has performed with great economy; for something less than twelve hundred pounds sterling expence to his Majesty's American Revenue.

Last Friday arrived at Nantasket his Majesty's ship Fowey, of 24 guns, from South-Carolina.

B O S T O N, JUNE 11.

Last Thursday afternoon, being the adjournment of the meeting of the trade, there was a very general attendance, probably on account of the promised appearance of the infamous McMasters, and the proposals of Nathaniel Rogers for a re-admission to the favour and friendship of his fellow citizen. The McMasters, agreeable to the usual generosity of their conduct, left the trade to make what reflections they pleased upon their good faith; and, it is thought, are conveying themselves and property out of town privately.

Mr. Rogers's proposals were read, and strongly urged by Mr. Molineux, to whom he had applied in the most suppliant manner, declaring that he was ready to make any acknowledgments and engagements that could be reasonably desired; in short, to do every thing in his power to satisfy the people and recover their esteem, as life he observed was burthensome to him in his present unhappy condition. The gentlemen who answered Mr. Molineux observed, that though Mr. Rogers appeared now very uneasy with his unhappy condition, it was notorious that for a series of years he had most wickedly abused this his native country in a correspondence with the ministry, and was now upon the point of entering upon the reward of his political iniquity—that as secretary of the province, it would be very convenient for him to have the smiles of the people; and perhaps as much so, to have a good presence for returning considerable quantities of goods, which, known to be his, could not reasonably be expected to have a very ready sale. The speakers on both sides treated the affair with seriousness and candor, and after a very full debate adjourned the further consideration of it to a future day, probably with design never to take it up again.

Near the close of the meeting a letter was read from the committee of merchants in New-York, proposing a congress of the trade at the town of Norwalk in Connecticut. The business of the letter was just opened and adjourned to Friday afternoon; when there was again as respectable an assembly in numbers and quality as perhaps had ever attended on a like occasion; and after a thorough and deliberate consideration of the important embassy, it was voted unanimously, That the body would at all events firmly adhere to the non-importation agreement, and the standing committee were desired to include the vote in a decent and respectful letter to the committee of New-York. The reasons given for non-concurrence with the proposal of our brethren at New-York, were principally these—That any the least alteration in the present agreement, now so universally adopted, lately ratified by our unanimous votes, and published to all the world, might show a levity of disposition probably injurious to the common cause—That Boston being but one of six maritime trading towns in this province, could not think themselves warranted to venture upon the relaxation of a compact, in which the rest were equally concerned with themselves, without their advice assent, which was impossible to be had before the time appointed for the congress. Finally, That as the object of the proposed relaxation, must respect an augmented importation in the fall, and that as yet we had obtained no kind of relief from the grievances this measure was entered upon to redress, we could not admit the question, whether one iota of it was to be receded from till its effect was thorough and indubitable. After this the behaviour of the town of Portsmouth, the capital of New-Hampshire, was agitated; and a committee appointed to consider of their conduct in importing British goods at this critical conjuncture in a larger proportion than usual, as it intended to take an unfair advantage of the patriotic self-denial of the merchants in the other colonies, and to draw up a vote respecting them, mutatis mutandis, similar to that passed against Newport in Rhode Island; and to report at the adjournment, which will be this day fortnight. A vote then was passed, importing, that whereas a vessel was lately arrived here from Britol, belonging to Portsmouth in New-Hampshire, with about 2000 bushels of salt, and a parcel of English goods for that place; And as the trade had lately voted and declined having any intercourse with Rhode-Island, for their infamous departing from the non-importation agreement; and that Portsmouth, from the same selfish views, had never yet come into it, but imported goods indiscriminately, to the great prejudice of the common cause.—Therefore voted, That no person of this body will purchase any quantity whatever, this bill, as any consideration, nor may any carrier presume to carry or receive it into their store, on forfeiture of the penalty of their fellow-citizens.

We are credibly informed, that there was made in the town of Chelsea in Connecticut, in the months of February and March last (from the sap of Maple Trees) 40,000 wt. of SUGAR. There was made last year in the same town, about 37,000 wt.

Extract of a letter from Philadelphia, dated May 24.
Our Sons of Liberty make up almost the whole of our people, and are determined to support the non-importation agreement. They are very sorry that any goods were shipped to Boston, &c. and are well pleased with the conduct of the Bostonians respecting the late importation. However, they seem to think that the goods which cannot be re-shipped should be burnt, or sent somewhere out of British America. We are governed much by this principle, that no stranger by importing shall take the advantage of our self-denial in trade, but as our merchants have nobly sacrificed their business for the public good, they shall not be deprived of the first run of business, as they would, had others full liberty to be vended on the first news of a repeal.

We are highly offended at Rhode-Island. It is a pity there is not virtue enough in that place to support their honour, at least modestly enough to forbear the attempt to frustrate the united endeavours of all the colonies on the continent to support their liberty. It is expected here that Boston, New-York, &c. will all unite in expressing their resentment against Rhode-Island, as we have done. I have only to add, that there is no danger of our merchants taking the lead in violation of the agreement, nor will they attempt to support it alone. It is indeed delinquent here, whether a few articles, such as pins, sheet-copper, Indian goods, &c. may not be added to the excepted articles. I know not what the result will be, but rather think no additional article will be admitted. Am glad to hear that manufactures are growing and perfecting with you; the same is in some degree true here.

Extract of a letter from London, March 28.
A bill is now forming, and will shortly be laid before the House of Commons, to fix Custom-House fees independent of provincial assemblies. It seems, by a late act, the assembly of Rhode-Island have declared, that the judgment of their inferior Court shall be final in all actions concerning Custom-House fees, which prevents the Collector from appealing home, as appeals can only lie from the Superior Court. This stroke of policy, however they may admire it themselves, will totally defeat their own purpose. This stride towards independency has rendered Custom-House matters an object worthy the attention of parliament; and the necessity of passing the aforementioned bill, will chiefly be founded on this new act. A state of the fees for 30 years back have been made out, from which a medium will be struck, and the fees settled.

PHILADELPHIA, JUNE 14.
The ship Sharp, Captain Spier, is arrived here from Glasgow, but last from New-York, and has goods on board, imported contrary to the non-importation agreement, which we understand will not be received, but immediately returned.
Every part of the province seems roused at the danger to which their liberties are exposed by the claim of parliament to tax America, and unanimous to enforce the non-importation agreement, which seems the only means of recovering their rights. Upon the news of the Newport merchants breaking their agreement, Baltimore, Newcastle, Wilmington, Chester, and every town down the river, took the alarm, and determined to have no dealings with them, until they made atonement for their defection, and returned to their duty. Captains Sterry and Whitney, in two Sloops from Rhode-Island, were ordered to depart from Baltimore immediately; and two other vessels belonging to the same place, which left this city, having stooped at Chester, were told by the inhabitants that they must expect no trade there.

PORTSMOUTH, (New-Hampshire) JUNE 15.
The general assembly of the Massachusetts-Bay, now sitting at Cambridge, are doing no other business, than sending messages to the Governor, protesting and remonstrating against the legality of holding the court there, and for answer he has repeatedly told them it is not in his power to remove them to Boston. Finally the house has resolved not to proceed to business, by a majority of 96 out of 103 members present, unless removed to the court house in Boston.

NEWPORT, (Rhode-Island) JUNE 15.
Such a spirit of industry prevails among the inhabitants of the town of Lancaster, in Pennsylvania, that upwards of 27,739 yards of linens, fluffs, &c. have been manufactured in that town, since the first of May, 1769.

The Massachusetts assembly at Cambridge had done no business, and seemed determined not to do any when the last papers were printed, except they could be removed to the court house in Boston.

We are assured, that the Sloop —, Tillinghast master, belonging to Providence, was last week turned away from Philadelphia, and not suffered to trade.

NEW-YORK, JUNE 12.
On Monday last a number of merchants and mechanics waited on our Committee, desiring the sense of this city should be taken by subscription, whether an alteration should not be made in our non-importation agreement; in consequence of which a meeting was called the same evening, and persons appointed to go through the different wards, and to each inhabitant to propose the following questions. Do you approve of a general importation of goods from Great-Britain, except Tea and other articles which are or may be subject to a duty on importation? Or do you approve of our non-importation agreement continuing in the manner it now is? Subscriptions were taken in accordingly, when a majority appeared for importation, on which the committee sent express to Boston and Philadelphia for their concurrence.

NEWPORT, JUNE 13.
Last Saturday night, about four o'clock in the morning, two thick fog the brig William and John, Capt. Rogers, was cast away on the South side of Long-Island. This vessel was chartered by Col. Smith, of Charlestown, S. Carolina, in which himself, his lady, 4 children and 4 servants, and several other passengers, were coming to this place to spend the summer, but as there was no person lost except the mate, who was drowned. Col. Smith with his family arrived safe here yesterday.

A boat from Worcester (Massachusetts-Bay) that at the Independents held there last Wednesday, four young women, who had been indicted for fornication, made their appearance at the court, with 2 young children, each having been delinquent of fornication.

Persons of Boston have been invited by their brethren in New-York, to send a committee to the congress to be held at New-York in Connecticut, but have refused to send any. And last week they have ordered a vote to be drawn up against the count of Portsmouth in New-Hampshire, similar to those against Boston.

Several gentlemen arrived from New-York, in the Sloop —, on Saturday evening, we are informed the New-Yorkers have had numerous meetings of late, respecting impor-

The two following ADVERTISEMENTS were received per said vessel, printed in Hand-Bills.

New-York, June 12, 1770.
WHEREAS a number of persons, who are immediately interested in the importation of goods from Great-Britain, have entered into a scheme, to frustrate the laudable endeavours of these patriotic merchants, and inhabitants of this city, who are determined to continue and support the non-importation agreement, upon which the liberties of our country entirely depend; which scheme, if carried into execution, will not only entail infamy upon this colony (for so base a desertion of the other colonies at this critical juncture) but will undoubtedly be the means of enslaving the whole continent. It is therefore requested that every friend in the liberties of his country, will not fail to meet in the Fields, at 12 o'clock this day, in order to fall upon a proper method to counteract such a design.

N. B. The public are cautioned not to sign any paper, till a general determination upon this matter.
Done at the request of a large number of the inhabitants of this city.

New-York, June 12, 1770.
WHEREAS an act was passed last session of parliament, for repealing the act imposing a duty on paper, paint, and glass, imported from Great-Britain into the colonies, by which a step is made towards reconciling the differences that unhappily subsist between the mother country and the colonies. We the subscribers, in attention to this conciliating measure, and at the same time to shew the just regard we have for the liberties of these colonies, which we consider as infringed by all acts of parliament, imposing taxes without our consent; do agree, That we will not import or receive from Great-Britain, any article or articles, upon which a duty is laid, or hereafter may be laid, for the purpose of raising a revenue in America: And whereas the aforesaid act, repealing the duties on paper, paint, and glass, will not take place till after the 1st of December next: We do also agree, not to receive or import any of the said articles, until after the said 1st day of December next. And whereas the duty on tea, still remains unrepealed, we do hereby also further agree, that we will not import from Great-Britain, any tea, until the said duty be taken off; all other articles, which are free of duty, we agree to import as usual. If any goods shall arrive contrary to this, and our former agreement, they shall be re-shipped immediately. And any person, masters of vessels, or others, that shall import, or receive a consignment of any dutiable goods, shall be deemed enemies to the colonies, and treated accordingly.

But that this agreement shall not take place, until we desire the concurrence of Boston and Philadelphia, and receive their answer by return of express, when, if this agreement should be rejected by the other colonies, the sense of this town will be again taken.

BOSTON, JUNE 15.
Last Tuesday afternoon, between 2 and 3 o'clock, one of the McMASTERS, the noted importers contrary to the agreement of the Merchants, and to whom it was lately intimated, that it was the minds of the inhabitants in general, that they should depart the town, with their persons and properties, as they would avoid the consequences of the public resentment, was taken at the South part of the town, and put into a cart, with some far in a barrel, and a bag of feathers; but, on his being carried some time on his way to King-street, where it was said he was to undergo the indignity of this modern punishment; when the cart drew near the Town-house, he appeared to be greatly frightened, which the humanity of some persons present, imagining might produce a fainting fit, he was thereupon permitted to go into a gentleman's house for a short time, properly attended, in order to recover himself; where he soon after solemnly promised, that if he might be spared from being tarred and feathered, he would immediately leave the town, and never come into it again; which being agreed to, upon condition that he should be carried out in the cart, he readily consented, and a chair being placed therein in lieu of the tar-barrel, he was then carted out of town as far as Roxbury-line, and having sworn that he would abide by his promise, he was then dismissed, without receiving any damage, and his numerous attendants peaceably returned again. Search was made for another of the McMASTERS, but he could not be found.—A third, who went to Marblehead, was ordered out of that town; from whence he went to Salem, where he could get no lodging, and a signal being given, he was obliged to quit that town also.

Monday last arrived here Captain Hall, from London, in whom came passengers, Mr. John Hazro, Dr. Dowle, with sundry other passengers, among them was PATRICK SMITH, with the goods he re-shipped last year, and for which the trade here then paid the freight home, and who has, since his arrival (together with the McMASTERS) we hear, prudently retired to the Castle.

We hear from Brookline, that on Tuesday night last, between 11 and 12 o'clock, the windows of the dwelling-house of Mr. Hulton, one of the Commissioners of the Customs, were broke, by persons unknown. Upon complaint made by Mr. Hulton, his Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, with the advice of his Majesty's council, has issued a proclamation, offering a reward of fifty pounds for the discovery of the offenders.—We hear Mr. Hulton has since retired to the Castle.

At New-Haven, the traders, tradesmen, &c. agreed to prevent any trade or commerce with Rhode-Island; and appointed a committee to wait on the captain of a vessel from Newport, that was at Stratford-river, to depart the colony immediately; which the captain promised to do, as soon as he had cleared his vessel at the Custom-house.

The inhabitants of the city of Annapolis in Maryland, have come into resolutions similar with Philadelphia, to have no intercourse with Rhode-Island.

The committee of trade at Marblehead, have desired Captain Treatwell, to go from that harbour with his brig, as the trade of Rhode-Island have not given any satisfaction to the colonies.

LONDON, MAY 10.
It is said that the business of Tuesday, in a certain assembly, was occasioned by a motion of Governor Pownall.

We are assured there is to be another dedicated to the consideration of what concerns our colonies; and that it will be the last on which those matters will be agitated this session.

MAY 11.
All the letters, papers, &c. which can any way lead to the tracing of the causes of a late melancholly event at Boston, are ordered to be laid before a respectable society.

It is said, that since the state of American affairs has been opened and considered, there appears such a field for censure and amendment, that the debates on them, which at first was supposed would only take up three days, will not be closed till the end of the week.

A correspondent observes, that though he is an approver of the Earl of Chatham's bill for rescinding the expulsion and incapacitation of Mr. Wilkes, yet, as striking at the root of all the evils we labour under, would be of more benefit to the people, than attacking any one particular unconstitutional determination, he had much rather his Lordship had brought in a bill for curtailing the excessive number of placemen in the House of Commons, as that is the undoubted root of all our grievances, and the cause of all our complaints. Remove but that grand evil, and all our other grievances would be remedied of course; but if that evil be suffered to remain, it will be impossible to remedy any other.

It is said that great pains are taking by the friends of administration to prevent the intended appeal to the people, which is of such a nature, as may be productive of very serious consequences.

The various reports of a change in the administration, are, we can assure our readers from the best authority, destitute of any foundation.

A letter from Leghorn mentions, that such is the rebellious spirit of the Corsicans, that the French begin to despair of keeping them in proper subjection, without stationing numbers of additional troops in that island; and that for this, and some other political reasons, they have made an offer to surrender it to the Pope for Avignon; which his Holiness has refused.

MAY 12.
It is said that Lord Chatham has declared he will be at Westminster on Tuesday next.

It is now certain, that no land forces will be sent to Boston, to subdue the spirit which appears in that people; but that a line of ships will be formed on their coast, to seize all the vessels which shall carry on a contraband trade; and to press the seamen into his Majesty's service.

It is thought, by those in power, that the above measure will soon dissipate the heads of the opposing faction, so as to humble and reduce them to a sense of obedience to, and dependence on, the mother-country.

The adjusting the affairs of America, the present state of which be formerly prognosticated, is said to be the subject which will employ the abilities and endeavours of a great man in the early part of next week.

MAY 14.
Friday a motion was made in the lower house, to enquire into the conduct of the committee of council, who sat on the complaint against Governor Melville. Though this motion was made, and chiefly supported by two honourable gentlemen, known to be near relations of Mr. Melville's accuser, yet this circumstance, which in a doubtful case would have been a disadvantage, was never once mentioned in the course of the debate.

On the contrary, so invincible was the force of truth, and the charge against Governor Melville appeared of so heinous a nature, and so well proved, by his own confession, that the whole was shocked, and those who had never before heard of the business, seemed to be infinitely surprised at the measure of permitting a man, who had avowed such doctrines, to return again to his government. The great constitutional charges against him, namely, his having called the council together to sit in their legislative capacity, while the assembly was prorogued or dissolved; his overthrowing the power of the assembly, by relieving persons committed for a breach of their privileges; and his erecting the council into a court of star-chamber; arbitrarily imprisoning many who fell under their displeasure; all these had their due weight, and a proper attention was paid them. But what chiefly prejudiced the house against the Governor, was his having not only permitted the use of torture in his government, and his having rewarded two of the torturers, by creating them members of the council, but his having maintained in his defence the legality and expediency of torture in a British settlement, and his having called that species of torture, by which three of the sufferers died of the injuries they had received, "a slight putting to the question." In short, it Mr. Melville had friends in the house, there was not one hardy enough to say a word in his vindication. Even a right honourable gentleman, who was supposed to have favoured him at the council board, seemed now to be ashamed of him. The motion, however, was not carried, but delayed by the previous question for this reason, "That there was not time, so near the close of a session, to make any effectual progress in such an enquiry." And the minister having likewise declared, that Mr. Melville would be in England before the beginning of the next session, we may now venture to congratulate the inhabitants of Grenada on the near prospect of their being relieved from the oppressions of so extraordinary a man, who, besides his other mal-practices, has had the address, with a view of serving his own malevolent purposes, to stir up a religious dispute in that island, and thereby interrupt the good harmony which subsisted between the old and the new subjects.

We hear that the further motions which a certain gentleman is expected to make, neither relate to the Middlesex election nor the city remonstrance.

The Carlton-house junto, it is said, are collecting all their forces for the field to-morrow, when Lord Chatham has declared he intends to make a motion in favour of the oppressed Americans.

We are informed that the report of several ships of the line having been lately ordered to America, is entirely without foundation; and that no measures of any kind whatever will be carried into execution on that continent, till the sense of two great assemblies is sufficiently known.

We learn from good authority, that it is now in agitation to send two gentlemen of known abilities to make a personal enquiry into the most minute circumstances relative to the late unhappy transactions at Boston.

It is now certain that the American matters cannot be adjusted this session of parliament; therefore, unless very nice measures are pursued, it is more than probable we shall soon receive disagreeable news from a majority of the provinces.

We are well informed, that the French and Spanish ambassadors have given our ministry the most positive assurances, that their courts will not interfere in any respect between the Russians and the Turks; and that they have sent orders to all their ships in the Mediterranean, to preserve the utmost neutrality upon the occasion.

It is now asserted in the most confident manner at the west end of the town, that Lord Denbigh will very soon assume an important department in administration.

It was the general opinion at the west end of the town on Saturday, that the parliament could not rise till next week, notwithstanding the house of commons were going through the business that was before them with the greatest rapidity possible, as some alterations were to be made in the dog-act, &c. but we are just now assured from very good authority, that both houses will be prorogued next Thursday.

CHARLES-TOWN, JULY 12.

JOHAN HUGHES, Esq; who supercedes DANIEL MOORE, Esq; the late Collector of His Majesty's Customs for this Port, landed here last Tuesday, from on board the Schooner Pennsylvania Farmer, bound from Philadelphia for Georgia; and Yesterday, after taking the usual Oaths, entered upon the Duties of his Office.—The Character given of this Gentleman, in many private Letters, and the Declarations, we hear, he has already made, afford us the agreeable Prospect, of that Confidence and Harmony being restored, between the Trade and the Officers of His Majesty's Customs, which so remarkably subsisted in the Time of the venerable Mr. BEAUFAIN.

The same Day arrived here from Rhode-Island, the Sloop Roby, John Earle, Master; to whom it was immediately intimated, that as all commercial Intercourse between this Colony and that had ceased, it was expected he would peaceably depart in 24 Hours: And the Vessel has accordingly fallen down to Rebellion-Road, to return to Rhode-Island with the first fair Wind.

Hand-Bills are industriously distributed about this Town, from Georgia, (occasioned by our Resolutions of the 27th past) which we hear, are so very insignificant, as not to deserve even this Notice.
